

ACREAGE: 61.5 | YEAR ACQUIRED: 1976, 2002

 Fogwell Forest is in a lowland area southwest of Fort Wayne. It's a bit of old-growth forest, with giant oak and beech trees. In the shade beneath the giants are flowering dogwood and pawpaw and an impressive display of wildflowers in spring. The preserve is the year-round home of squirrels, raccoons and great horned owls.

DIRECTIONS:

From Fort Wayne (I-69 exit 299) take Airport Expressway east 0.25 miles and turn left (north) onto Lower Huntington Rd. Travel 1.3 miles to Whippoorwill Dr. and turn right (south). The preserve is at the end of Whippoorwill Dr.
